My birthday is a celebration of life, especially since my previous owners were going to have me euthanized. Thanks to my Mom adopting me four years ago, she has given me a new lease on life! National Pet Day is a day of celebration for most all pets, and especially those who have been adopted from being homeless, in shelters or situations where they were neglected, abandoned and/or abused. It is a time to celebrate new families, new adventures and a new start! As a previous rescue dog, my life before was one where I never thought I would be happy again. After my previous owners had their baby, I was cast aside. Although I was fed and taken out, I didn't receive the one thing that all of us need—love. Sadly, this happens with many parents who have a baby and that's how many animals end up in shelters, or as I was—on death row, awaiting euthanasia. Thankfully, my Mom saw my adoption ad and rescued me and gave me a new life! We applaud the families who know that their pet is part of the family and introduce them to the newest additions in a safe way.

Celebrating My Birthday and National Pet Day

This month, we are celebrating my Birthday and National Pet Day! It's a time to celebrate the wonderful bond between people and their furry and feathered friends.

For the rescued dogs and cats, like me, we know that every day is National Pet Day—we appreciate every day that we have been given a new start with a good family! I am hopeful that many people will come out and support The Bow Wow Luau & The Cat's Meow® to help save the lives of homeless dogs and cats in our community. For my fellow dogs and cats who are awaiting their future families, we hope that they may all get their forever homes with loving families!

You can't change a rescue dog's past, but you can rewrite his future. Rescue does not mean damaged. It means they have been let down by humans. You can't buy love, but you can rescue it!
